

A dining table is set for a fondue meal. In the background, a fireplace with a stone surround has a warm fire burning. The table is covered with a dark cloth and features a central stainless steel fondue pot on a black electric base. Two white square plates are placed on either side of the pot, each with a folded white napkin and a glass. Various ingredients are laid out on the table: a bottle of 'Los Paganos' wine, several small plastic containers with different colored sauces (yellow, orange, red), and three large bowls containing chunks of red meat, cooked potatoes, and a fresh salad of lettuce and tomatoes. A small jar of salt is also visible.
