

A photograph of a white, cylindrical fire alarm pull station mounted on a wall. The station has a red emergency button and a red label with the text "C i". The station is mounted on a white wall, and a wooden door frame is visible on the left. A small, white, rectangular object is mounted on the wall below the station.