Menu

Originally from Vila do Conde, I grew up between the sea and the deep-rooted traditions of a land with a strong identity.

My close connection to tradition and local produce has shaped, from early on, my vision of cuisine as an expression of elegance, precision, and a true sense of place. My path has been forged with dedication and exacting standards.

In 2021, I launched my own authorial project with the opening of Rio, recognised with a Bib Gourmand distinction by the Michelin Guide.

In 2025, Douro was born, in the heart of Porto a space where I continue to explore a cuisine that honours the product, technique, and sensory experience.

I believe in a cuisine that is precise, contemporary, and grounded where each dish tells a story with depth, detail, and intention.
